

Senior Tax Advisor (f/m)

We are recognised as an important independent tax boutique based in Zurich. The experienced Tax Partner team with currently 13 partners and counsels and approximately 45 professionals in total advises multi-national and national corporate clients as well as individuals on all national and international tax issues. As a central aspect of our corporate culture, we build on the personal development of our employees and on the constant quality of our advisory services. Our strength is our team and our philosophy is to work closely with our clients.

To strengthen our team, we are looking for a dedicated, solution-oriented and innovative

Ideally, you have a degree in law or economics and long-term practical experience in tax consulting for individuals in an international environment. In addition, you have a diploma as a tax expert or comparable further training. You enjoy working in a team, are communicative and feel comfortable in a performance-oriented environment. With precise analyses, entrepreneurial thinking and creative solutions you will win the recognition of our clients and the Tax Partner team. You are fluent in German and English, both orally and in writing. Other foreign languages, especially French and Italian, are an advantage.

We pass on the long-standing experience of the Tax Partner team to you and offer you an ideal environment for your professional development. Our open and uncomplicated approach will appeal to you. With performance, an open personality and future-oriented thinking, a long-term career with us is waiting for you. We look forward to getting to know you personally.
